WHRC PAST, PRESENT, AND FUTURE

The Women's History and Resource Center of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, CELEBRATING 30 YEARS of preserving historical records and providing quality reference service to members, officially opened at GFWC Headquarters in Washington, D.C. on May 1, 1984.

The WHRC invites GFWC members, potential members, the research community, and the general public to explore the rich history of women volunteers by providing access to GFWC's expansive collections. Readily available reference service, interactive technology, educational programs and publications, creative exhibits, and dynamic partnerships await those interested in using all GFWC has to offer. Preservation of historic records, buildings, and artifacts; the organization and publication of club history; and creative ways to use GFWC's history for community outreach are some of the benefits of membership all made possible through this invaluable resource.

Regardless of a community service project's focus, a review of the historical perspective can be beneficial. GFWC's history is full of examples of successful projects that demonstrate the important relationship between grassroots and international efforts, the significance of long-range planning and thoughtful organization, and the value of community service in developing strong and compassionate leaders.

The GFWC Women's History and Resource Center Guide encourages clubs to investigate and document their own history by learning about our past. We hope this information will motivate and provide the incentive, for you and your club members to explore and boast about GFWC's amazing history, which will serve to help facilitate a growing and purposeful future.

May 1, 2014 marked 30 years since Vice President George H.W. Bush cut the ribbon opening of the GFWC Women's History and Resource Center. Since that historic day, GFWC clubwomen have generously contributed time, funds, and historical materials to the WHRC, making it a pearl among the country's women's history research centers.

The Celebration of 30 Years of this remarkable milestone for members, researchers, and educators will continue throughout the year and beyond.

Help us celebrate this anniversary by becoming a Friend of the WHRC today! Your donation will help the WHRC engage in outreach activities, preserve and catalog the WHRC's multimedia collections, build the research library collection of publications on women's history, and offer internships and research fellowships. Make your donation through the GFWC Marketplace today and receive a limited-edition 30th Anniversary Pin.

OVERVIEW OF GFWC COLLECTIONS

The GFWC Women's History and Resource Center manages the organizational archives of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, related special collections, and a complementary research library. Our Archives document GFWC's historical development from 1890 to the present, including the role of GFWC clubwomen in promoting education, leadership, and social and political advocacy in the broad programmatic areas of art and literature, conservation, personal and public education, public and international affairs, and home and community life.

GFWC programs have included advocacy for women's suffrage, child labor and juvenile court laws, community and family health reform, the establishment of national parks, the preservation of Native American culture, peacetime uses of technology, libraries and literacy, wartime service, the Equal Rights Amendment, and international humanitarian efforts. GFWC members number some of the most prominent women of their respective eras, including Julia Ward Howe, Jane Addams, Julia Lathrop, Alice Lakey, Mary Belle King Sherman, Eleanor Roosevelt, and Margaret Chase Smith.

Special Collections held by the WHRC include State Federation and club histories, oral histories, photographs, and art and artifacts. GFWC's most significant "artifact" is its Washington, D.C. Headquarters, which was designated as a National Historic Landmark in 1991.

GFWC's Research Library consists of nearly 5,000 publications that provide a broad context for researching the history of GFWC and women volunteers. The GFWC Collections Management Policy, which defines how GFWC collections are acquired, managed, and preserved, can be found at www.GFWC.org/Membership.

OVERVIEW OF WHRC RESOURCES, VOLUNTEERING OPPORTUNITIES, AND PROJECT IDEAS

HOW CAN THE WOMEN'S HISTORY AND RESOURCE CENTER HELP ME AND MY CLUB?

Your club's history is valuable to your community and to GFWC. The WHRC can help you preserve your club's archives, record the oral history of longtime members, and write an engaging historical narrative. The WHRC has prepared two guidelines to help you with these projects: A Guide for Recording Oral History and A Guide for Preserving and Writing Club History. Call 1-800-443-4392 (GFWC), email WHRC@GFWC.org, or write the WHRC, 1734 N Street NW, Washington, DC 20036-2990, for a free copy of these publications.

1. GFWC history is YOUR history. The WHRC can help you develop programs using GFWC history to promote interest and membership. Refer to the "Ideas for Club Projects Using GFWC History" section beginning on page 3 for more information.
2. The WHRC helps manage the preservation of GFWC's National Landmark Headquarters building. We can offer advice and assistance in preserving your historic clubhouse.
3. The WHRC can act as a professional liaison for clubs that want to work with a state or local historical agency to preserve their historical records and/or buildings.
4. The WHRC uses the latest technology to make GFWC's collections available to GFWC members throughout the world. We can help you navigate the WHRC catalog and online exhibits, and provide advice to clubs and State Federations on how to make their own collections accessible online. Visit the online catalog and exhibits at www.GFWC.org/WHRC.
5. GFWC publishes the WHRC News, a seasonal newsletter for Friends of the WHRC, and other special publications to assist and promote clubs that are doing projects that relate to GFWC history or historic preservation.
6. Workshops, tutorials, and webinars on GFWC history and historic preservation are presented at the GFWC Annual Convention and online at www.GFWC.org.
7. GFWC offers tours highlighting exhibits at GFWC Headquarters for groups and individuals. These benefits are free to GFWC members.
8. The WHRC provides research opportunities for members and the general public, and maintains an inventory of the locations of State Federation and club archives to assist GFWC club members and other researchers in finding information.

HOW CAN MY CLUB SUPPORT THE WORK OF THE WHRC?

1. Join the Friends of the WHRC. See the next page for levels of giving and benefits of Friends of the WHRC.
2. Become an onsite or long distance volunteer. The WHRC needs help to make the thousands of club histories and hundreds of oral history transcripts accessible online. The WHRC can provide copies of histories and transcripts for digitizing or audiotapes for transcribing. Onsite volunteers may work as GFWC Headquarters tour guides or collections assistants.

3. Help make the WHRC an internationally recognizable resource on the historical role of women volunteers by promoting WHRC collections, services, and student field study opportunities to local colleges, universities, and historical institutions. Upon request, the WHRC can provide you a full-color rack card describing the WHRC that you may give to a local repository or academic institution.
4. Promote and participate in events that feature WHRC services and benefits, such as webinars, tutorials, and workshops, as well as the Women's History Month event held each year in March at GFWC Headquarters.
5. Encourage the appointment of a WHRC Chairman in all State Federations and clubs.
6. Keep the WHRC updated on the location of club and State Federation archives.
7. Report your WHRC program activities to GFWC. We want to share your success stories to inspire others.

IDEAS FOR CLUB PROJECTS USING GFWC HISTORY

1. Contact the WHRC for tips for using WHRC publications and electronic resources for club program ideas. For example, use the booklet Rising by Light to Higher Things: Highlights of GFWC's Collections to create programs on GFWC's support of American Art; the GFWC Timeline to relate GFWC national service programs to local ones; or GFWC photographs of events, people, or unique publications and memorabilia to illustrate a PowerPoint presentation.

2. When planning and publicizing a membership recruitment program, highlight your club's history to demonstrate the importance of your club to your community. For more information on membership recruitment activities, please review the GFWC Membership Advancement Guide.
3. Gain inspiration for fundraising and community outreach by reviewing past GFWC Community Improvement Program Award winners in the WHRC online catalog. GFWC history is relevant to ALL program areas.
4. Develop a proactive public affairs program by offering GFWC history stories to your local news media for Women's History Month (March), Federation Day (April 24), and Archives Month (October).
5. Take a leadership role in your community by partnering with local historical institutions to promote the role of your club in local history. For more information on leadership development, please review the GFWC Leadership Advancement Guide in the GFWC Club Manual.
6. Work with your local public schools to assist students with National History Day projects on women's history; offer to serve as judges for local History Day competitions.

HOW CAN I OR MY CLUB ARRANGE A TOUR OR SCHEDULE A RESEARCH VISIT?

The WHRC manages the preservation of and access to GFWC's historic archives and collections, including tours of GFWC Headquarters. A National Historic Landmark, 1734 N Street NW is a Washington must-see for GFWC clubwomen and their guests. Group tours and research appointments must be scheduled in advance by contacting WHRC@GFWC.org or 1-800-443-GFWC (4392). Tour and research hours are between 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. GFWC is closed on Federal holidays, Good Friday, and the week between Christmas and New Year's Day. Tour admission is free for GFWC members and by suggested contribution for non-members.

GUIDE TO USING THE WHRC ONLINE CATALOG

A primary goal of the WHRC is to make GFWC's valuable historical records more accessible to our members, the scholarly research community, and the general public. Improved access will promote greater recognition for the contributions of GFWC clubwomen and inspire members to use the lessons of past successes to build solid membership, strong leadership, and meaningful community service projects.

The WHRC online catalog allows GFWC members and website visitors, including those who come to the catalog via a general Web search engine such as Google, to explore a wide range of GFWC collections. The tips in this Guide are meant to be a quick outline to navigating the WHRC online catalog. If you need additional guidance, please don't hesitate to contact us at WHRC@GFWC.org or 1-800-443-GFWC (4392).

To access the catalog through the GFWC website:

1. Go to www.GFWC.org/What-We-Do/WHRC/
2. Click on the "WHRC" tab to bring you to the Women's History and Resource Center home page:

3. Click on the link that reads "View the WHRC online catalog," below the photograph of archival boxes:

NAVIGATING THE ONLINE CATALOG FROM THE MAIN CATALOG PAGE

KEYWORD SEARCH—This search field casts the widest net for information, similar to the simple keyword search feature of Google. This search covers all fields included in the catalog records, including donors, who may be individuals, clubs, or State Federations. As with Google, enclosing a multi-word search term in quotation marks will limit results to that phrase; for example, “South Dakota.”

Interactive features in each record

- Email Page (top, right)—send this image to a friend
- Send Feedback (top, far right)—contact the WHRC with comments or questions
- Order Image (below image)—request a copy for a club presentation or publication
- Search Term (in record)—may provide additional information on that topic. For example, click on “GFWC Headquarters” to read details on the history of GFWC Headquarters.
- Person (not shown)—Click on the name of any GFWC Past President to see her biography.
- Related Hyperlinks (not shown)—If digital content is available, a link will be provided to read a book, club or state history, or oral history online.

AWARDS

A $50 award will be given one club in the nation for creativity implementing an effective GFWC Women's History and Resource Center program. Certificates will be presented to one State Federation in each membership category to recognize creativity in implementing an effective GFWC Women's History and Resource Center program.

Awards will be determined by entries into the Awards Program. Each State Federation may submit one State Award Cover Sheet and one Club Creativity Award Entry Cover Sheet for the Women's History and Resource Center Advancement Area. Clubs do not submit entries directly to GFWC.

Refer to the Reporting section of the GFWC Club Manual for more information, including the Award Entry Cover Sheet guidelines.

RESOURCES-AVAILABLE FROM THE GFWC MARKETPLACE

In honor of its 30th Anniversary, the Women's History and Resource Center unveiled the beautifully redesigned GFWC timeline and WHRC brochure as well as a brand new 1734 Society brochure. The timeline has been updated to include recent milestones in an eye-catching glossy tri-fold and will be made available through donations in Marketplace. Brochures are available upon request by phone at 202-347-3168 ext. 137 or email at WHRC@GFWC.org. The following publications and materials related to the WHRC are available from the GFWC Marketplace at www.GFWC.org/Membership/Marketplace/.
